NEW OFFENDERS

The Fourth of July spirit, the big-hearted, good-natured personality of Judge Pugh, were well demonstrated this morning in the Police Court when he made a near day's record in granting freedom to offenders against law and order in the District.

No less than twenty-two men and women who appeared in court to answer to minor charges were released by Judge Pugh on their personal bond, with good advice and good feeling. Only the old offendars and hopeless cases were turned back to serve their time.

FOR PRESIDENT, NEXT

Gen. Velasco or Pedro Lascarain Said to Be Acceptable to the Dictator Who May Step Down Following Elections omorrow and Assume Position As Commander-in Chief of the Army.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta has at last decided to relinquish the presidency of Mexico and to leave for France within a fortnight, according to confidential advices received at constitutional headquarters today. Huerta will thus save his face and avoid final defeat at the hands of the rebel forces, which the agents here are confident will come about within the next two weeks.

Huerta, under this latest plan, will permit the election of either Gen. Refugio Velasco, the federal commander who defended Torreon against Villa; or Pedro Lascarain, former minister of foreign affairs under Madero, to be President of Mexico. He will recognize either of these men after the elections tomorrow and will then step down to the position of general in chief of the army, so the constitutionalist junta here is advised.

The newly elected president, as commander-in-chief of the army will then order Huerta to Paris on a secret mission, thus saving the dictator's face and ridding Mexico of her chief agitator.

The junta claims that its information is thoroughly reliable, and that it came direct from Mexico City.

The dispatches further state that Gen. Joaquin Maas, Huerta's favorite nephew and chief military adviser, and Querido Moheno, minister of commerce and industry, will sail from Puerto Mexico on the French liner L'Espagne today for Havre, France.

Their departure is significant, say local constitutionalists. "The rats are leaving the sinking ship," said one of the agents today, "and Huerta makes good his boast, "I will never resign."
